PERMISSION GUIDELINES

As the author, it is your responsibility to obtain all necessary permissions for copyrighted material. Permissions must be obtained from the original copyright holder, usually the publisher, even if it is your own material. Material from NCHP books and journals must be requested so that our copyright ownership can be verified. Some publishers may require that you obtain the original author's permission as a courtesy.

If permission is denied, you have three options: (1) significantly alter or redraw the material so that permission is no longer required, (2) find suitable substitute material, or (3) remove the material from your work. Attached is a sample request letter. Use it to request permission or as a guideline when generating your own request letters.

Important: Your manuscript is not complete until all permissions are received by NCHP. Failure to obtain and submit all permissions and verifications will result in delay of publication of your work.

Permission Verification and the Request Form

Permission Verification Form: Carefully read and fill out this form, sign it and return it to NCHP. Check Section A if all material in your work is original/public domain. Otherwise, check Section B and list all material that requires permission, and its source, and submit a Permission Request for each text excerpt, figure, or table. Every text excerpt, figure, and table in your work must be either original, fall within the public domain, or have written permission for use.

This form must be returned even if there are no figures or tables in your section.

Permission Request Form: Indicate the text excerpt, figure, or table number in your manuscript as it corresponds to the requested text excerpt, figure, or table. Submit original permissions grant letters to NCHP and keep a copy for your records.

Note: Please request rights for all media and for all subsequent editions. If permission states, "one-time use in publication you are requesting," that is fine, this means simply that requests must be made for future editions and versions of your work in order to be published by NCHP.

WHAT NEEDS PERMISSION

- Any passage from a play, poem or song
- Any quote of 50 words or more from a periodical
- Any quote (or series of shorter quotes) totaling 400 words or more from a book
- Any table, diagram, figure or illustration (line drawing or halftone)

Remember: Data itself cannot be copyrighted, only the format in which it is published. For example, if data contained within text are converted to tabular form, no permission is needed (it still requires referencing, however). Slight modification, such as changing the order of columns in a table, is not sufficient to circumvent the legal necessity of permission.

WHAT DOES NOT NEED PERMISSION

Most U.S. government materials falls within in the public domain, i.e., it is not copyright protected, nor eligible for protection. However, many government-sponsored organizations, such as the NAS, copyright their own material, and even though they have government sponsorship, copyright permission must be obtained.

TIP: If in doubt, request permission.

SOURCE LINES

Follow the recommendations of your style manual for source lines (or credit lines) unless special wording is required by the copyright holder. Please insert the source lines where appropriate in the manuscript: beneath a table, following figure captions, etc. Figures and tables that do not have source lines are assumed to be original work and must be verified as such. Consult NCHP with any questions.

New Century Health Publishers, LLC Transfer of Copyright Agreement

Scientific publishers and authors share a common interest in the protection of copyright: authors principally because they want their creative works to be protected from plagiarism and other unlawful uses, publishers because they need to protect their work and investment in the production, marketing, and distribution of the article written by the author. In order to do so effectively, publishers request a formal written transfer of copyright from the author(s) for each article published. Publishers and authors are also concerned that the integrity of an article (once refereed and accepted for publication) be maintained, and in order to protect that reference value and validation process, we ask that authors recognize that distribution (including through the Internet/WWW or other online means) of the version of the article as accepted for publication is best administered by the Publisher.

To avoid any delay in the publication of your article, please read the terms of this agreement, sign in the space provided, and return the complete form to us at the address below as quickly as possible.

Article entitled: _____

All Author(s): _____

Corresponding Author: _____

To be published in the journal: _____

I hereby assign to New Century Health Publishers, LLC the copyright in the manuscript named above (the "article") in all forms and media (whether now known or hereafter developed), throughout the world, in all languages, for the full term of copyright and all extensions and renewals thereof, effective when and if the article is accepted for publication. This transfer includes the right to adapt the presentation of the article for use in conjunction with computer systems and programs, including reproduction or publication in machine-readable form and incorporation in retrieval systems. The publisher retains the right, subsequent to publication, to use the article or any part thereof, in a printed compilation of works in another form.

I understand that a large number of author uses are retained or permitted (without the need to obtain permission from New Century Health Publishers, LLC) to enable continued use of the article for traditional scholarship communications, for teaching, and for distribution within my institution. I (We) confirm that I (we) have read and understand the full list of rights retained by authors and also agree to the other General Terms of Publication (see below).

- I am the sole author of the manuscript.
- I am one author signing on behalf of all co-authors of the manuscript. I have obtained permission of other authors to sign on their behalf.
- All authors will sign this document.
- The article is a "work made for hire" and I am signing as an authorized representative of the employing company.
- I am a US Government employee and there is no copyright to transfer, but I affirm the author warranties (see note 4).
- I am a co-author who is not a US Government employee but whose co-authors are government employees (see note 4).

- [] I am an employee of the UK, Canadian, or Australian Government claiming Crown Copyright, but I affirm the author warranties (see note 5).
- [] I am a co-author who is not claiming Crown Copyright but whose co-authors are employees of the UK, Canadian, or Australian Government (see note 5).

Please mark one or more of the above boxes (as appropriate) and then sign and date the document.

General Terms of Publication

1. Rights of authors

- Patent and trademark rights and rights to any process or procedure described in the article.
- The right to include the article in full or in part in a thesis or dissertation provided that this is not to be published commercially.
- The right to photocopy or make electronic copies of the article for their own personal use, including for their own classroom use, or for the personal use of colleagues, provided that the copies are not offered for sale and are not distributed in a systematic way outside of their employing institution (e.g. via an e-mail list).
- The right to retain a preprint version of the article on an electronic public server. The right to post the final published version of the article on a secure network (not accessible to the public) within the author's institution.
- Posting the final published version of an article on a public file server such as on the World Wide Web can only be done with written permission from New Century Health Publishers, LLC
- If the article is a "work for hire" made within the scope of the author's employment, the employer may use all or part of the information in this article for intra-company use.
- The right to present the paper at a meeting or conference and to hand copies of the paper to the delegates attending the meeting.
- The right to reuse parts of the paper in other works, provided that the new work is not to be published commercially.
- All copies, paper or electronic, or other use of the information must include an indication of the copyright ownership and a full citation of the journal source.

2. Requests from third parties

- Requests for all uses not included above, including the authorization of third parties to reproduce or otherwise use all or part of the article (including figures and tables), should be referred to the New Century Health Publishers, LLC Permissions Department, PO BOX 175, Coppel, TX 75019, USA; FAX: +1 940-565- 8148; e-mail: nchpjournals@gmail.com

3. Author warranties

- The article you have submitted to New Century Health Publishers, LLC for review is original, has been written by the stated authors, and has not been published elsewhere.
- The article is not currently being considered for publication by any other journal and will not be submitted for such review while under review by New Century Health Publishers, LLC.
- The article contains no libelous or other unlawful statements and does not contain any materials that violate any personal or proprietary rights of any other person or entity.
- You have obtained written permission from copyright owners for any excerpts from copyrighted works that are included and have credited the sources in your article.

- If the article was prepared jointly with other authors, you have informed the co-author(s) of the terms of this copyright transfer and that you are signing on their behalf as their agent, and represent that you are authorized to do so.

4. US Government employees

- If all co-authors are US Government employees there is no copyright to transfer. Please sign the form, to confirm the author warranties.
- If there are a number of co-authors, at least one of who is a US Government employee (and this work was prepared in such capacity) and at least one of who is not a government employee, the nongovernmental author should sign this form, indicating transfer of those rights, which such author has (also on behalf of any other nongovernmental co-authors).

5. Crown Copyright

- UK Government employee authors may elect to transfer copyright. UK Government employees wishing to claim Crown Copyright should mark the box above and sign the form to affirm the author warranties.
- The work of Canadian or Australian Government employees is automatically subject to Crown Copyright. Please mark the appropriate box and sign the form to affirm the author warranties.
- If there are a number of co-authors, at least one of who is claiming Crown Copyright and at least one of who is not an employee of the UK, Canadian, or Australian Government, the nongovernmental author should sign this form, indicating transfer of those rights, which such author has (also on behalf of any other nongovernmental co-authors).

6. New Century Health Publisher's Articles in Press Service

New Century Health Publishers, LLC may choose to publish an abstract or portions of the paper before we publish it in the journal. Please contact our Production Department immediately if you do not want us to make any such prior publication for any reason, including disclosure of a patentable invention.
